Michael R. Dreyer, President of The Tampa Bay Trust Company has announced the official opening of the new Belleair Bluffs office at 2938 West Bay Drive, just east of the Belleair Beach bridge. “The Trust Company has been serving clients in Belleair and the surrounding communities for several years now and the growth we’ve experienced among our coastal clientele warranted a new, larger office for not only their convenience, but the talented team dedicated to this area,” said Dreyer.

Earlier last year, wealth services advisors, James McArthur, senior vice president and Krista Hinrichs, vice president joined Belleair resident and client advocate, Harriett Bankston in serving local clients. Since then, senior portfolio manager, Briana McDougall, CFA recently joined the company to partner with fellow senior portfolio manager, Andrew Vanderhorst, CFA, CFP®, CLU® in managing client assets. “We are proud of the substantial team of professionals we have assembled to provide an exceptional level of wealth management for the Bay area,” said Terence M. Igo, CEO.

Architecture Joyce Owens LLC was the company contracted to execute the interior work on the new office. “The space was updated with modern functionality and designed with the beach in mind,” said Joyce Owens, FAIA, RIBA, “so we used sandy neutral colors with subtle pops of color to make it both welcoming and sophisticated.”

Team members will work weekdays from the new location and virtual or in person office visits are available by appointment by calling 727.226.6039 or visit tampabaytrustcompany.com.

The Tampa Bay Trust Company is listed among the Top Ten of Private Wealth Management firms in Tampa Bay Business Journal’s highly-regarded Book of Lists and has also received their Best Places to Work designation.
